

SUMMER TIME IS BUSY TIME FOR FARMERS—Saline county farmers join with other farmers throughout the nation in putting in long hours working in their fields—most of them working from before sun up until long after "city" folks' hours are over. Typical of the local farm scenes are combining oats (top) and corn plowing (lower photo). Combining wheat, although started in some parts of the county, isn't expected to hit its peak until next week. Gerald Ray Sutton, RFD 3, Eldorado, was combining a small acreage of oats on the Roy Bramlet farm Friday and stated an effort was being made to get all small jobs out of the way as "We will be up to our necks in wheat this time next week." William Sutton, uncle of Gerald, "takes ten" from plowing his corn to talk with photographer. Mr. Sutton stated he had 115 acres of corn, also several acres of wheat and beans. Everyone talked with during the week described this year's crops as "good". (Daily Register Staff Photos)

Firemen Have Busy Day with 3 Houses Destroyed, 2 Damaged

Storms Rage From Southwest To Appalachians

Floods Hit Boys' Camps; Lightning Causes Oil Tank Fire

By United Press
Flash floods sent hundreds of boys fleeing from Pennsylvania summer camps today and lightning triggered a huge oil tank fire in Texas.

The storms, thrown up by a battle between cool air and a two-week heat wave, raged from the Southwest to the Appalachian Mountains. In Indiana, a two-story building collapsed during a downpour, injuring five persons, and two persons were killed by lightning bolts.

The torrential rains in Pennsylvania's Lawrence County sent Little Slippery Rock Creek roaring three feet high down U. S. Route 19 "like a rapids." Big Nashannock Creek also overflowed.

Hundreds of boys were evacuated from summer camps in the area. The floodwaters washed out at least five small bridges, carried away boulders, logs and debris, and cut off some roads leading into the college town of Slippery Rock.

HARRISBURG FIREMEN in action at the Olen Ingram home on East Poplar street. With smoke billowing through broken windows and smoke and flames breaking through the roof, local firemen displayed ability and courage in fire fighting Friday afternoon. Firemen climbed the slanting, wet, slippery roof to get to the flames and after an hour brought the fire under control. A large crowd was attracted to the scene and many were heard to comment favorably on the actions of the firemen. Firemen can be seen on the roof, with another on the ladder helping to hold the fire hose. Eldorado's fire department responded to a call to help when it was feared the fire would get out of control. With Harrisburg's two trucks and Eldorado department in action, water was poured into the burning building from every direction. (Daily Register Staff Photo)

Prevent Total Loss at Olen Ingram Home

Damage Confined To Roof and The Third Story

City firemen had their busiest time yesterday since the Junior high school fire on New Year's Day of 1953 as they demolished three homes and badly damaged two others with losses running into thousands of dollars.

After the disastrous noon hour fire on South Washington street that destroyed the three houses and damaged one of the others, the fire department raced to the huge Olen Ingram home at 605 East Church street, where observers said firemen did a great job in saving the structure and thus preventing the flames from spreading to other buildings.

The Eldorado fire department made the run to Harrisburg to help save the three-story frame structure, which is in front of Ingram's Uptown motel.

Loss Stored Items

Fire Chief L. G. Martin said that fire damage was confined to the roof and the third floor although there was water damage throughout the house. The third floor was finished into rooms but was used for storage of items belonging to Ingram and other people.

All the contents of the first two floors were removed but the stored items on the third floor burned up, it was stated by the firemen. Ingram was at home when the fire started but Mrs. Ingram and a daughter were in Evansville.

Fire Chief Martin said the fire started from overloaded wiring in the attic.

When the fire department was called, flames were coming out of the third floor windows and smoke was so dense even at ground level that firemen had difficulties in getting where they wanted to go.

"It was the heaviest smoke I've ever encountered," said Fireman Harvey Hicks.

Both local fire trucks were put to work, the new truck sending two streams of water onto the fire and the old truck one. When the Eldorado truck arrived, it played two streams onto the house.

Cut Two Holes

Chief Martin and volunteer firemen Jimmy Lambert, Charles Hyers and Jim Maddox climbed a ladder to the third floor and cut out two holes, one through a partition inside the house, to get to the blaze. When water started pouring through these holes, the flames were soon subsiding.

Martin estimated the fire departments fought the blaze about an hour.

The fire department, which received its call to go to the big fire in the 1300 block of South Washington street around 11:30 a. m., stayed with this conflagration until around 2:30 p. m. Another run was made around 7 p. m. to this scene to wet down a blaze that had started up again.

Destroyed were the houses of Denzil Perkins, Victor Wallace and Walter Eddy. The Otto Slankard home was damaged. Firemen saved a store building at the rear of the Eddy home.

Firemen had their difficulties in Dorrisville because of poor water pressure, but the pressure was good to fight the Ingram fire, Martin said.

The Carrier Mills fire department aided in combating the Washington street blazes.

About Town

And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

Richard W. Poston Is Featured In Time Article

ON PAGE 16 of the June 25 issue of Time Magazine is a story which is of national interest or Time wouldn't have devoted practically a full page to it.

The setting is the State of Washington.

First the story tells about the lumber town of Snoqualmie, citizens waded into 76 action projects to make their town a better place to live. The town's project started three years ago and mushroomed into something of great import.

Aiding the town was the University of Washington's Bureau of Community Development.

The article tells of Anacortes, another Washington town, which in 1953 was down on its 6,700 residents, 1,800 were on or were asking for relief.

But when two major oil companies opened big refineries in the area and Anacortes was suddenly riding the biggest boom in its history, the town took it all in smooth stride.

Why? Because, the Time article points out, the usual headaches of sudden expansion had been averted by shrewd bureau-directed advance planning.

The bureau also helped Port Angeles (pop. 11,850), tiny Winlock (pop. 875) and many others.

And, here is the important thing: Speaking of the university's Bureau of Community Development Time says:

"Founded in 1950 under the direction of crusading Community Planner Richard W. Poston, it has in six years lifted 22 communities

OIL REPORT:

Two Hot Spots in Brushy Township With Two Fine Wells Reported

Taken from the Robertson Tri-State Oil Report
Two hot spots in the Tri-State oil picture popped up in Brushy township of Saline county the past week with two fine wells.

They are:
Lauderdale's L. C. Naugle Communitized No. 1, SWc NE NW, 28-8s-5e, and, one mile to the northeast, Lobree's Keown-Bona-Baker et al No. 1, NWc NW NW, 22-8s-5e.

The Naugle test, six miles northwest of Harrisburg, awaited cable tools to test the Aux Vases lime at 2950-55. A 10-minute drill stem test at 2945-57 gassed in 30 seconds and flowed in 10 minutes. It is two miles from other producers.

The Keown-Bona-Baker et al No. 1, has set casing to test five pays—Aux Vases lime and sand, Rosiclare lime and sand and the McClosky, all of which had good shows. A drill stem test of the Aux Vases at 2869-2914 gassed in 12 minutes and flowed in two hours, 10 minutes; it recovered 1380 feet of clean oil and no water with a bottom hole pressure of 1,100.

There were 13 completions in Saline county for the period ending June 20, and of these there were seven oil producers, a gas well, three dry holes, one temporarily abandoned and one completion where information was being withheld.

Calvert-Rehn-Duncan had three good wells, all in Section 16 of 8s-5e (Galatia township). The Reynolds-Burns et al No. 2, SEc

SW NE, had initial production of 413 barrels of oil per day on flow from the Aux Vases; the Reynolds-Burns No. 3, NEc NW SE, made a well in the Aux Vases and had initial production of 475 barrels of oil a day on flow; and the Reynolds-Burns No. 5, SEc NE SE, had initial production of 375 barrels per day on flow from the Aux Vases.

Sun's Woodiel-Land No. 1, SWc NE NW, 25-8s-5e (Brushy), had initial production of 264 barrels of oil a day on flow through choke from the Aux Vases; Bryant's Goshorn Communitized No. 3, NEc NW NW, 20-8s-7e (Eldorado township) had initial production from the Aux Vases of 79 barrels a day on flow; VS and S Drilling company's Wilson-Teachers No. 1, NWc NE SW, 8-8s-5e (Galatia) had initial production of 110 barrels per day on flow through choke from the Aux Vases after fracture; and Strickland's J. L. Menkosky No. 1, NEc NW NE, 16-8s-5e (Galatia), had initial production of seven barrels per day on pump from Aux Vases.

Calvert-Duncan completed their Stinson No. 1, SEc NW NE, 17-8s-7e (Eldorado), as a one and one-half million cubic feet gas well from the Palestine.

Dry was George S. Engle's Lloyd Guest, NWc NW SW, 10-8s-6e (Raleigh); the Moran-Buchanan Woodard Communitized No. 1, SEc NE NE, 9-8s-5e (Galatia); and Ohio's Peabody Coal Co. No. 1, NWc SW, 11-8s-5e (Galatia).

There was no information available on Jet's completed C. E. Seten No. 1, SEc SE SE, 1-8s-7e (Eldorado).

Temporarily abandoned was Sharp's Lawrence Hughes No. 1, SWc NW SW, 9-8s-5e (Galatia).

Rosiclare Man Dies In Veterans Hospital
Harley Glass, 52, resident of Rosiclare, died at 2 a. m. Friday in the Veterans hospital in Marion.

His body is at the family home and will lie in state there until the time of the funeral Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Rosiclare General Baptist church. Rev. Joe Goolsby will officiate and burial will be in the Fluorine cemetery.

At Indianapolis, the front half of a brick two-story building near the Statehouse collapsed "like a little earthquake" during a downpour. Five of the 25 persons in the building were injured. A contractor working on the building said the rains probably weakened the walls.

It was the second night of violent weather in the Midlands. Weathermen blamed the outbreak on a marathon heat wave's last ditch fight to stay on.

Lengthy application forms now required for government surplus food recipients have been withdrawn Howard Patterson, chairman of the Saline County Board of Supervisors has been informed by Rep. Kenneth J. Gray.

A wire to Patterson said they have been withdrawn through agreement between the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Illinois Public Aid commission.

Gray said the IPAC now will submit a much simpler form to the department of agriculture for approval. In the meantime, he said it will not be necessary for recipients to fill out the lengthy forms.

Charles H. Schrader is injured on ship
Charles Hensley Schrader of this city, who is in the Navy, was on a ship making a cruise from San Francisco, where he is based, to San Francisco, when the hammock in which he was asleep came loose from the overhead mooring, and he was thrown to the deck, receiving an injury to his back. He is in the Navy hospital in San Francisco, according to word received by his aunt, Mrs. Frank (Edith) Parker.

These were the men chosen for the principal convention roles: Keynote speaker — Gov. Arthur B. Langlie of Washington.

Permanent chairman — House GOP leader Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts.

Temporary chairman — Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland of California.

Resolutions committee chairman — Sen. Prescott Bush of Connecticut.

Langlie, 56, agreed under White House pressure to run this year for the seat of Democratic Sen. Warren G. Magnuson. Bush, whose committee will draft the party platform, is a candidate for reelection. Their convention roles can be calculated to help both of these men, who are facing tough campaigns in their home states.

Two-Year-Old Boy Swallows Toy Balloon, Suffocates
CHICAGO III — A two-year-old boy in suburban Villa Park suffocated when he swallowed a toy balloon Friday.

Firemen failed in their attempts to revive the boy, Randall Funicke. He was pronounced dead at a neighboring hospital.

Killed by Lightning
CHAMPAIGN — Harold L. Kelly, 40, Taylorville, was killed by lightning Friday as he stood on the track infield during races at Champaign-Urbana Speedway.

The lightning also struck Irvin Stevens, Decatur, but he was not seriously hurt.

GOP Selects Top Leaders, Speaker For Convention

WASHINGTON — Republican national convention plans assign the biggest jobs to men from the heavily populated East and West coasts.

The midwestern core of GOP strength is not represented in these assignments, although prominent speaking roles still can be expected to go to that area.

About 40 members of the Republican arrangements committee made plans for the convention in a final session Friday. The convention opens at San Francisco Aug. 20.

Plans were drawn up on the assumption that President Eisenhower is available for renomination despite his current illness. Although some Republicans have not ruled out the possibility that he may withdraw, they expect him to run and are not thinking of any switch in plans.

He is survived by his mother, a brother, David, and a sister, Carolyn, both of Eldorado; a half-sister, Mrs. Harker P. Miley, Harrisburg; a grandfather, Marion Prather, and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Harve Kingston.

His body is in the care of the Martin funeral home and funeral plans are incomplete.

Four Local Drug Stores Work Out Plan For Sunday Service
Four Harrisburg drug stores have joined in a new plan of Sunday openings.

Jackson's, Rainbow's, Skaggs' and Barter's drug stores have worked out a plan which will give the public all-day service from one of the stores each Sunday.

All will be open until noon on Sundays, with one of the four from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m., the stores taking turns at remaining open until 10 p. m.

Rainbow's will be the first of the four to stay open all day.

Prisoner Pulls Plumbing Loose in City Jail Cells

For a while this morning it looked like there was a swimming pool in the basement of the city hall. Water spouted out of plumbing and covered the floor of the two cell rooms.

At 5 a. m. today Edward Farmer of Harrisburg was picked up by city police and jailed for drunkenness.

Later in the day a city hall custodian saw water coming from the cell room. Officers discovered that plumbing had been pulled loose and water was spouting all over the place.

Farmer was transferred to the other cell room and a plumber was called to repair the damage.

In a short time this room was flooded, too. The lavatory had been pulled off the wall and water was spouting from the ceiling through the open pipe.

Farmer was placed in a small cell where there was no plumbing.

A TOP LEVEL CONFERENCE on how universities and the U. S. Forest Service can cooperate on forestry research and in training persons for jobs in timber-using industries is shown in progress at Southern Illinois University. Conferring are D. W. Morris, left, SIU president; Francis Hutchins, president of Berea (Ky.) College; Malcolm Williamson, forester in charge of the Berea U. S. Forest Research Center; and R. D. Lane, forester in charge of the Carbondale U. S. Forest Research Center. (SIU News Photo)

Pines Grow Fast in Southern Illinois

DIXON SPRINGS—It's never too late to start investing in a deal that will pay off double in four years.

That's the kind of investment that was made four years ago in a shortleaf pine plantation at the Dixon Springs Experiment Station of the University of Illinois.

W. R. Boggess, forest research specialist at the Station, reports that this thrifty, well-stocked pine plantation was thinned in the spring of 1952, when it was 15 years old. The cutters used three cutting intensities that took out about 60, 40 and 30 per cent of the volume in the stand.

Today, Boggess says, the volume of wood on the heaviest thinning has more than doubled, while that on each of the other two cutting intensities is only slightly less. By contrast, the unthinned part of the same stand has increased only 60 per cent.

Total volume of growth is about the same for the two areas of the timber. However, this growth was put only on the best trees in the

Farm-Grown Oak for Flooring

Oak flooring made from your own trees can save as much as $150 to $200 a thousand feet of lumber, reports a forestry research specialist.

There's a building boom in Illinois, and the farmer is in on it. A lot of new farm homes have been built and many more will be going up in the future.

If you're building, naturally you're interested in saving costs wherever you can. Your farm woodland can be a source of one cost-saver, according to J. K. Guher, research forester at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Here are some comparative costs of different kinds of flooring. Select red oak flooring retails at $200 to $340 a thousand board feet. Softwood flooring (made from needle-bearing trees) can be bought at the lumber yard for $180 to $200 a thousand.

Good oak flooring can be made from the farm woodlot for as low as $130, Guher says.

If you decide on farm-grown oak for flooring, locate a wood-working plant that has a flooring machine. Many of the larger cities in Illinois and in the neighboring states of Iowa, Missouri and Indiana have such mills. They'll be able to tell you what kind of oak lumber is needed to manufacture good flooring. It usually isn't necessary to cut the very best trees. Either black or white oak can be used.

After felling, trees should be cut into lumber as soon as possible and the lumber properly cured. Let oak season about six months in the air. Air seasoning takes out most of the moisture and makes kiln-drying easier.

Farm Bill to Boost Price Supports on Oats

SPRINGFIELD — The 1956 farm bill passed by Congress will result in an increase of 6 cents a bushel for the support price of oats, the State Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office reported today.

Support rates announced in March were based on 70 per cent of parity. The new rates have been increased to 76 per cent of parity. The 1956 support price will be 4 cents a bushel higher than in 1955.

Support prices vary slightly by county, with all Illinois farmers receiving supports ranging from 65 to 69 cents per bushel.

Bleach Powder Takes Odor From Cisterns

You can make cistern water usable for everything but drinking by using a heavy dosage of chlorinated lime or bleaching powder. Frank Andrew, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says the bleach will have a strong smell for a day or so. But it will go away and leave your cistern water free from harmful germs and bad odors.

It is possible to help keep disagreeable smells from developing in a cistern by cleaning it out thoroughly and then installing a filter and a rain switch. The switch allows the rain to wash the roof dirt away before it turns the runoff water into the cistern.

In spite of all your precautions, Andrew says, you can't keep all leaves and insects, or even a mouse once in a while, from getting in and causing musty odors. Then you can use the lime or bleach. This chemical treatment is especially useful in dry weather, when a low supply of water might make you hesitate to drain it away to clean the cistern.

Farmers Warned To Guard Against Corn Borers

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — State entomologists today warned Illinois farmers "to be on guard for the next two to three weeks" against the corn borer, despite hot weather which killed many of the insects in the pupae stage.

"Tremendous overpopulations" of corn borers were present last year in some areas, and borer eggs laid in the next few weeks may become a serious problem, the entomologists reported.

The weekly bulletin prepared by Illinois Natural History Survey and University of Illinois entomologists said rapid growing early corn creates "conditions favorable for borer survival."

The report said cutworms, chinch bugs and army worms are causing some damage to corn and other crops in eastern and northern Illinois, and insecticide treatment may be profitable in some areas.

Blackleg Sudden Killer of Cattle

A disease called blackleg can kill cattle as fast as lightning. In fact, lightning is sometimes blamed for sudden deaths in cattle that are really caused by blackleg, says a University of Illinois veterinarian.

Dr. Ralph F. Ziegler of the College of Veterinary Medicine says that the start of a pasture season is a time of danger from blackleg.

He emphasizes the need for annual vaccination of all calves one to four months old in areas where the disease has been present. This control measure is necessary because (1) blackleg germs form tough, hardy spores that may live for years in the ground on an infected farm and (2) the disease may kill an apparently healthy animal in 24 hours before symptoms can be noticed or before a veterinarian can be obtained.

Blackleg is dangerous primarily to young cattle four months to two years of age.

It is not contagious, and in an outbreak usually only a few animals will be affected. If the diseased animals are treated soon enough, some of them can be saved.

To avoid contaminating grounds on the farm, all infected carcasses should be burned or deeply buried.

Certain symptoms of the disease, other than sudden death, may be observed in a herd. An infected calf usually leaves the herd and appears to be stiff and in pain. Swellings may appear on the hips and shoulders. When you rub these swellings, they sound as if there is tissue paper underneath. This sound is caused by gas that forms in the diseased muscles and collects under the skin.

SIU Country Column

Today's discussion will be on Irish potatoes.

Walter Bradley, Marion, called the Southern Illinois University School of Agriculture a few days ago to solve the "mystery" of small "tomatoes" on his potato vines.

Mr. Bradley had not previously observed this kind of a phenomenon, knowing that it is customary to reap the potato harvest from below the surface of the soil. At least he had not found an answer to the question. More than likely few farmers in southern Illinois have observed fruits on potato vines, or, if they have, most of them have not bothered to worry about it.

William T. Andrew, vegetable crops man at SIU, says the occurrence of fruits on potato vines is a perfectly natural thing, but many persons fail to notice it. However, a few have been doing so, bringing potato "tomatoes" to Andrew's office during the past three years.

Andrew explains that potatoes and tomatoes belong to the same plant family, bearing quite similar flowers and fruits. However, plant breeders have not worked with developing the potato fruit for size, flavor and quality as they have with the fruit of the tomato vine. Rather, scientists have been concerned with improving the underground tubers of the Irish potatoes because these are the accepted food item from this kind of plant.

The temperature and length of day influence the setting of potato blossoms for the formation of fruit. Long, cool days favor fruit set. This condition has prevailed recently in southern Illinois, so instead of blossoms dropping off as usually happens when potatoes are blooming during warm weather, Mr. Bradley's potato blossoms remained on the vines and formed fruit. In this latitude about 16 hours of daylight is ideal for potato fruit set if the temperature remains comparatively low.

The potato fruit has only two cells instead of the greater number present in tomatoes. Botanically it is classed as a berry. The fruit contains seeds which may be used for growing potatoes. However, it is quicker and easier to use pieces of the tuber for planting—a practice used almost entirely by persons producing potatoes. Some varieties of potatoes bear more blossoms and fruits than do others.

Andrew points out that temperature and light conditions favor greater potato production from a fall crop than from a spring crop in southern Illinois. The long days foster greater vine growth above the ground; the shorter days favor the formation of tubers.

One-half of the world's population over 10 years of age is illiterate, according to a Washington bureau.

The sugar beet came to the United States from Europe. First attempt to establish the industry here was made in 1836.

Mrs. Thomas George Kiritis

In an early Spring ceremony at the Oak Park Baptist church in Indianapolis, Ind., Miss Patricia Ruth Kielhorn, daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Le Roy Kielhorn of 450

West Vernon street, Indianapolis.

In the presence of a large group of friends and relatives the Rev.
Charles Cantrell officiated at the double ring ceremony at 3:30 o'clock on Easter Sunday before a background of greenery, palms, pink and white roses and tapers in candelabra lighted by Charles Kielhorn and Raleigh Dobbins.

The bridegroom was attended by Anthony Kiritis, his brother, as best man. Raleigh Dobbins,

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Kielhorn and carnations achieved a setting for the bride's table. Tall pink tapers flanked the beautifully decorated wedding cake, its three tiers surmounted by diminutive bridal couple posed beneath a wedding bell.

Table hostesses were Mrs. Joyce taffeta, complemented by pink accessories for her traveling ensemble to a two weeks' honeymoon in Miami City, Fla.

The bride attended grade school at Carrier Mills and is a former vocal and piano student of Mrs.
Pearle Sherman. After moving to Indianapolis she studied under George Newton, music instructor at Ball State Teachers' college,

Organize General Baptist Boys' Enterprisers

The Enterprise of the First General Baptist Church of Harrisburg was organized Sunday evening, June 17, at the church. The Enterprisers, an organization for boys, was instituted to help boys become more missionary minded and better Christian workers. This organization is spreading throughout the General Baptist churches.

The constitution and covenant of the Enterprisers were read and explained. Then the two sponsors, Ezra Black and Gene Wright, presided over the election of officers.
The officers elected were as follows: President, John Maszaros; vice-president, John Wright; secretary-treasurer, Max Kendall; assistant secretary-treasurer, Stephen Maszaros. The boys then decided that their regular monthly meeting would be the second Thursday of every month at 7:30, and that other meetings would be decided upon later. The next meeting was set for Thursday night, June 28, at 7:30.

All the boys present became charter members. Those present were John Wright, David Wright, Stephen Maszaros, George Dunning,
Ronnie McCuan, Max Kendall,
Denean Nolen, Mike Wasson, David
Reed, and John Maszaros. Freddy Ozment, another charter member, was unable to be present. The closing prayer was given by John Maszaros.

Salem Voters Approve Sale of Municipal Plant

SALEM, Ill. (AP)—Salem voters have approved the sale of the city's municipal power plant by a vote of nearly two-to-one.

In an advisory election Thursday there were 1,386 votes for the sale of the plant and 743 against it.
The Salem City Council now is expected to sell the electric plant to the Illinois Power Co. for $1, 148,000.

Illinois Power will buy the generating and distributing equipment plus the building. It will then provide electricity to Salem, at first using a temporary power line which will be replaced by permanent installations by fall.

Last March Salem residents rejected a $1,180,000 bond issue to finance expansion and repair of the municipal plant.

We need fences. They serve a good purpose. They give protection. But unless they have gates in them, they stop being fences and they become barriers. Without that gate, for instance, Mary Jane couldn't go across to the garden next door, and play with the little girl who lives there.

And, just as we need physical fences sometimes, we need mental and spiritual fences too. We need the privacy of our own thoughts, the sanctity of our own beliefs.

Danger comes only when we build barriers rather than fences around our inner selves. For none of us can live in spiritual isolation. We must have gates in our personal fences. We must permit Faith to enter. We must commune with others . . . and, above all, with God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest force on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four grand reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'The Continuing Mission of The Church'

Acts 28:16-31
GOLDEN TEXT: "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." (Matt. 28:19-20)

INTRODUCTION: The book of Acts is often called "The Acts of the Apostles." It might well be called, "The Acts of the Holy Spirit." Read it with this thought in mind, and see if it does not give new meaning to you.

At the close of the book of Acts, we find Paul in prison at Rome. (It was my privilege to stand in this prison cell in July of 1955.) This dungeon-like prison is underneath a huge rock. The rock had a hole about two feet in diameter in the center of it. It was down through this hole in the rock that Paul was dropped into prison. His eyes were bad, and the only light was that of a candle. Most of us would have said, "this is the end."

However, as our lesson title tells us, the church had a mission to continue.

I PAUL CAME TO ROME (V. 16)

Finally Paul arrived in Rome. Yes, he was a prisoner upon his arrival. But let us not forget Paul chose to come to Rome as a prisoner rather than be sent from Caesarea to Jerusalem as a free man. His sincere desire was to go to Rome and preach the gospel to Caesar and to all in Rome who would listen. If going as a prisoner was his only means of having this privilege, then he would go as a prisoner. He suffered shipwreck. He suffered many hardships, but he was doing God's will and knew it. Makes modern-day Christians look rather sick, does it not?

II PAUL WITNESSED TO ALL (VV. 23-29)

Paul never missed an opportunity to witness for Christ. Every person who came into his presence listened to him tell about Christ and salvation. Paul had first gone to his own people, the Jews. They had failed to respond to the preaching of Christ and the call of the Holy Spirit. It was then that, under God's direction, Paul began preaching Christ to the Gentiles.

This portion of scripture tells us that, "some believed, and some believed not." It has ever been so. Today some believe while others do not believe in Jesus Christ as Saviour.

It is our duty to carry on the great mission of the church. It is found in the great commission given by Jesus as found in Matthew 28:19-20, our golden text for today. We are to go into all the world making disciples, baptizing disciples and teaching disciples. Jesus promises to be with us "even unto the end of the world."

III PAUL FAITHFUL TO THE END (VV. 30-31)

Paul never stopped witnessing for Christ as long as he lived. He dwelt two years in prison in Rome. During this time he lived in a rented house, but he was kept constantly under guard. It was toward the end that he was placed in the Maritime Prison, described above.

People came daily to Paul's prison house for spiritual help. He won many of them to Christ. Tradition tells us that even though the guard was changed almost daily, that Paul won many of the Roman soldiers to Christ.

CONCLUSION — We come now to the close of our study of the book of Acts. What has it meant to you. Have you been stirred in your soul to action for Christ's sake? Paul was willing to live for Christ, or to die for Christ. He has made an imprint upon the world that shall influence people to come to Christ until Jesus comes again. Let us determine in our hearts that we shall follow his example and continue the mission of the church.

"INSURANCE-WISE"

by
BILL GHENT

The other day, my good friends, Howard Logsdon and his wife, Marilou, had spent the early part of the morning in a successful fishing expedition, and since the sun was beaming down about 90 degrees in the shade, they decided to call off the fishing during the hot part of the day and retire to their cabin for lunch. However, since they were going to do some more fishing in the afternoon, they just left their rod and reel and tackle box in the boat where they anchored it.

You can imagine their surprise and indignation upon returning to the boat and finding their fishing tackle gone. As most of you know, a rod and reel, as well as the many different kinds of plugs which expert fishermen use, cost a good deal of money and a real fisherman hates to lose them.

This loss though didn't result in a monetary loss for the Logsdons because they had been far-sighted enough to purchase a Homeowners Policy from the Robertson-Ghent Insurance Agency, and it was my privilege today to deliver to them a check in payment of their loss because this loss, like many others, was properly covered by a Homeowners Policy which every homeowner should have.

Braves Win Seventh Straight For New Manager Haney; Roberts Beats Cardinals, 2-1

By United Press
Fred Haney, still undefeated as manager of Milwaukee, is sitting on top of both the world and the National League but he climbed down long enough to proclaim he is "no miracle man."

"I'd like to say I'm a miracle man," said the smiling, jubilant Haney Friday night after the Braves won the seventh straight game under his management by beating the Cardinals, 3-1, "but let's face it I'm not."

"These guys are doing it," he said, gesturing toward his players whooping it up in the clubhouse. "They're playing good ball and we're getting good pitching."

Haney got a whale of a pitching job out of Ray Crone Friday night as the 24-year old right-hander scattered seven hits for his seventh victory.

Homers Win Game
The Braves gave him all the margin he needed to beat Ruben Gomez when Bill Bruton and Eddie Mathews smashed back-to-back homers in the third inning. Crone singled home Milwaukee's final run in the fourth.

The victory kept the Braves a full game ahead of the Cincinnati Redlegs, who took over second place with a 6-0 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Unbeaten Brooks Lawrence, the ace of Cincinnati's pitching staff, racked up his ninth straight victory while limiting the Dodgers to two hits. The only hits off Lawrence were Carl Furillo's single in the fifth and Jackie Robinson's double with two out in the ninth. Catcher Ed Bailey drove in three Redleg runs with two homers while rookie Frank Robinson hit his 14th homer off loser Sal Maglie.

Robin Roberts of the Phillies pitched a five-hitter for his seventh victory in defeating the Cardinals, 2-1, with the aid of Del Ennis' 12th homer.

Bucs, Cards Trade Places
The defeat dropped the Cards to fifth place, as power failure caused the game between the Cubs and the Pirates at Pittsburgh to be called in the fourth inning with Chicago leading, 2-0.

With the Cubs at bat in the fourth, all 10 light standards went out, leaving the field in total darkness. The game was delayed for an hour and 15 minutes before it was officially called. None of the records count and the entire game will be replayed at a later date.

The White Sox cut the Yankees' lead in the American League to four games by beating the Bronx Bombers, 5-4, on Sammy Esposito's single with the bases full in the 12th inning. Esposito also came through with a pinch double in the 11th to drive in two runs.

Calhoun Scores
Eighth Round TKO
Over Willie Vaughn

NEW YORK (AP)—Rory Calhoun, unbeaten young Negro middleweight of White Plains, N. Y., will be rewarded with a shot at second-ranking Bobby Boyd at Madison Square Garden in August because of his 22nd straight victory and 12th knockout Friday night in the Garden.

Calhoun, 21, scored a technical kayo over Willie Vaughn of Los Angeles at 2:28 of the eighth round, after flooring him three times in their nationally televised and broadcast fight. Only 1,500 attended.

Rory, who weighed 160 1/2 pounds to the California state champion's 159, was favored at 13-5.

Fishing at the Carbondale city lake, which was fairly spirited during early spring, is at a standstill except for bluegill. And the one big bluegill haul was slightly phenomenal. Carl Drake and "Humpty" Williams of Carbondale boated 27 of the smallest measuring seven and one-half inches. Four of them added up to eight and one-half pounds and three more nine and one-half.

Paul Doeth, caretaker at the Carbondale park, says bass are still spawning here. Best spots for bluegill are the two points off the "big neck" at the south end of the reservoir where water is knee deep. Bass, when they reawaken, will be hitting in the lush weed beds at the west end. A few channel cats are being caught, the best be-

Reports from Little Grassy and Horseshoe Lakes indicate a general sag in all types of fishing, although one unidentified woman took 20 yellow perch while fishing off a dock at the Cairo, impoundment.

The bluegill run continues to hold up at Lake Murphysboro. Two plug and worm fishermen spent five and a half hours on the lake, bringing in 33 good bluegill, three redear and 10 small bass. The largemouth were caught on both surface and deep running plugs. Forty fishermen took a total of 215 bluegill out of the lake on June 9.

out of one kind of municipal morass or another."

Yep, that's the same Richard W. Poston who was in Harrisburg this week, talking about community planning and development. This fellow, a Humphrey Bogartian type in appearance, can hold you when he starts talking, with his wealth of material, on what communities can and should do to help themselves. He's now the director of the Department of Community Development at Southern Illinois University.

He talked for nearly two hours here the other night without stopping and nobody seemed to get tired of listening.

The man can help Harrisburg if we who live here will get the starch out of backbones and bend over. He can help the communities around us.

His theme is to get your house in order first, then go after industry.

I'd like to see the man come back to Harrisburg with a large turnout to hear him.

Marilyn, Playwright Plan to Give Press the Slip on Their Wedding Day

NEW YORK (AP)—Actress Marilyn Monroe and playwright Arthur Miller put their heads together today on a plan to give the press the slip on their wedding day.

The couple admitted Friday that the most talked of wedding since Grace Kelly married Prince Rainier will take place sometime between July 1 and July 13, but said other details "still have to be arranged." They denied that the ceremony would be today, as previously reported.

Red-Hot Bass Play at Crab Orchard

By PETE BROWN
(From reports by the Southern Illinois University Cooperative Fisheries Research Laboratory and the Illinois Department of Conservation)

CARBONDALE, Ill. — No sooner had last week's report on the bass explosion at Little Grassy left the typewriter than the same thing happened at Crab Orchard Lake. The individual yarns about red-hot bass play at Crab Orchard are backed up by official creel studies. Bass fishing, for the first time this year, is the best bet.

Among dozens of fishermen who have cashed in are the B. H. Davernports (Jr. and Sr.) of Carbondale who landed 10 between three and five pounds in two outings, losing three more. Ned Trovillion, also of Carbondale, picked up a five and a quarter pounder. Calvin Gillespie, using what might be a tackle-box antique—a Heddon "Gamefisher"—boated one an ounce shy of six pounds. John and Jerry Brown, Granite City, took home five nice ones, the biggest going slightly over five pounds.

At the risk of sounding repetitious, it must be mentioned, however, that one Albert Peithman, Carbondale, emerged from the bass week far ahead of the field. Fishing a "bomber" (white and black bombers are his favorite weapons), Peithman racked up the limit on two successive days, the total catch weighing 65 pounds. Biggest fish in the two-day haul were a six and one-half pounder and a seven pounder. Since the two "limit" catches, he has added 11 more.

Crappie fishing at Crab Orchard, and all other major area lakes for that matter, has ground to a near halt. One theory is that crappie didn't spawn at all this spring, a fact extremely difficult to verify since young crappie can't be sampled until they are at least a year old.

Cool Safe Crackers

CHICAGO (AP)—Bandits found it hot going when they tried to crack a safe with an acetylene torch Friday, so they poured cold bottles of soda-pop over the safe to cool it off. They got away with $10,000 in cold cash.

There's a question of privacy," said Miller, who has told friends he is determined to avoid sharing his nuptials with newsmen and photographers at all costs.

Eye Witness Report
Marilyn says she'll tell reporters about the wedding "after its over—over perhaps before." Anyway, she guarantees "to be on time for my own wedding."

Marilyn held up a scheduled press conference with 100 newsmen and photographers for an hour and 10 minutes Friday night. A detail of 12 police refused to let her hold the interview in the lobby of her swank Sutton Place apartment house, she and Miller met the noisy battery of press representatives and curious neighbors on the sidewalk.

"I'm glad we're only getting married once," whispered the lanky, sweating Miller into Marilyn's downy ear. She replied by nuzzling him so violently that he had to tell her to cut it out. "I'll fall over if you do that again," he said.

Miller covered a number of PASSPORT — He hopes to get one in time to accompany Marilyn to England on July 13. He said he has made a "special request" for a passport and is willing to file a non-Communist affidavit with the State Department to get it.

CONTEMPT OF CONGRESS — He hadn't heard that Rep. Gordon Scherer (R-Ohio) said he would propose contempt proceedings against Miller for refusing to name former associates in Communist-front organizations when he appeared before the House Un-American Activities Committee Thursday.

HONEYMOON — Marilyn has to go to England to make a film, he said. If he can't go because of passport difficulties there just won't be any honeymoon.

Rep. Francis Walter, another member of the House Un-American Activities Committee, didn't think Miller had much of a problem.

"I don't suppose there are many places in this country where he wouldn't enjoy a honeymoon with Marilyn Monroe."

Ruling Clears Way For Guaranteed Wage in Illinois

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A Circuit Court ruling Friday cleared the way for the guaranteed annual wage in Illinois.

Judge De Witt S. Crow, of Sangamon County, refused to allow filing of a lawsuit designed to block payment of unemployment benefits to laid-off employees getting jobless benefits from their companies.

The suit was brought by the Barco Manufacturing Co., Barrington, and Grubb and Peterson, a Campaign advertising agency. Lawyers for the firms said they would appeal the decision.

Crow ruled that the unemployment compensation law provides a trust fund and the two companies do not have an interest in the fund sufficient to entitle them to bring the suit.
